PREFACE

The Government of India have taken up the programme of issuing supplements to the District Gazetteers which were compiled and published upto the year 1966. The detailed contents of the Chapters given here indicate the general scope of the subject.

The scheme of the preparation of supplements to the District Gazetteer is to be completed in all States by 1980-81. The Government of India have decided to pay 100% assistance subject to a ceiling of Rs. 10,000 per volume for the compilation and publication of the supplements.

The Quilon District Gazetteer was published in 1964. This supplement incorporates the latest available facts and figures and brings it upto date.

With the limited resources at the disposal of this Department we have made genuine attempts to include as far as possible the latest available data. Considering that the scheme is a time bound one, serious effort has been made to bring them out at an early date. This has to be followed by the issue of supplements to the District Gazetteers of Trichur, Kozhikode and Ernakulam.

In compiling this supplement I have received sincere co-operation from all the members of the staff of the Department especially Sarvasree Adoor K. K. Ramachandran Nair, Assistant Editor and V. A. Abdul Khader, the Sub Editor.

I will be failing in my duty if I do not express my sincere thanks to Dr. P. N. Chopra, Editor, Gazetteers, Government of India and his staff of the Central Gazetteers for the assistance rendered by them in the work of the preparation of this supplement.

I am also thankful to Shri P. K. Titus, Superintendent, Government Presses, Trivandrum and his Staff for taking up the responsibility of printing the volume.

Trivandrum,
13th October 1978.

DR. C. K. KAREEM.

INTRODUCTION

The Quilon District Gazetteer was published in the year 1964. A District Gazetteer is the most comprehensive single source of knowledge about the district. While presenting a broad picture of its physical features, history, administration and socio-economic life, it also aims at providing useful and authentic information relating to the field of agriculture, industry, education, medical and public health services, places of interest etc., in the district. As such, it forms an important reference book for administrators, research scholars and general readers.

The Government of India have taken up the scheme of issuing supplements to the District Gazetteers which were published more than ten years back. The supplements are intended to update the statistical and other data contained in the concerned Gazetteers.

The Quilon is the second in the series of the supplements to the District Gazetteers of Kerala. The draft of this supplement was sent for printing in December 1978. It was the keen interest shown by Shri Adoor K. K. Ramachandran Nair, Assistant Editor who has been put in full charge of the duties of State Editor, Kerala Gazetteers on March 28, 1979 that expedited the printing of this supplement. I thank him for the rare devotion to duty he has exhibited in this behalf.

I have great pleasure to release this supplement for the use of the general reading public.

C. H. MOHAMED KOYA,
Minister for Education,
Chairman, Advisory Board for Kerala Gazetteers.

Area and physical features

The total extent of Quilon district is 4,623 sq. kms. This district ranks third in point of size.

Based on the physical features the entire state is divided into three natural divisions viz., (1) highland, (2) lowland and (3) midland. As far as the Quilon district is concerned Kottarakkara Taluk lies completely in the midland region whereas Kunnathur, Pathanamthitta and Pathanapuram taluks lie in highland and midland regions and Karunagapally and Quilon taluks lie in midland and lowland regions. The following table gives the population by natural divisions.

Boundary change

The only change in the jurisdiction of the district since August 17, 1957 (formation of Alleppey district) was limited to the addition of Srayikad and Azhikkalthura Karas of Puthuppally village of Karthikapally taluk of Alleppey district to the Perinad village of Karunagappally taluk of this district.

Climate

The district has a tropical humid climate with an oppressive summer and plentiful rainfall. The hot season March to May is followed by the southwest monsoon season from June to September. October and November form the post monsoon or retreating monsoon season. The period from December to February is the northeast monsoon, with the rains associated with it ceasing by about the end of December and the temperature of the period being generally high.

Rainfall

At present rainfall records in the district are available from the eleven centres as against from nine centres when the original district gazetteer was published. In general rainfall does not show much of a change in quantity or seasonal variation. Below are given tables showing the monthly rainfall at the eleven rain recording stations in the district for the years 1966, 1970 and 1971. (Tables in next page).

Temperature and relative humidity

At present, as before, there is only one meteorological observatory in the district. This centre is situated at Punalur. The table showing the temperature and relative humidity recorded at that centre for the years 1969 and 1970 is given below:

Special weather phenomena

In the summer and the post monsoon season thunder-storms, mostly in the afternoons, occur on about 25% of the days. Occasional thunderstorms occur in the period December to February. Even during the southwest monsoon season the rains are often associated with thunder. Occasionally the district is affected by storms which move from the Bay of Bengal to the Arabian Sea across the extreme south of the peninsula in November and December. On such occasions the district experiences widespread heavy rains and strong winds.

Working population

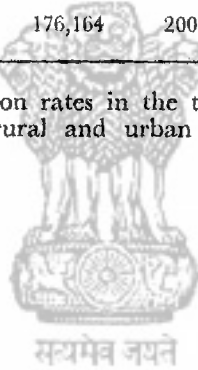

The total number of workers in the district as per the 1971 Census is 690,283 of which 534,949 are males and 155,324 are females. 28.61% of the total population is returned as workers. The work participation rates for males and females are 44.37% and 12.87% respectively. The percentage of workers to total population shows a decline from 32.51 in 1961 to 28.61 in 1971. The same trend is noticed in all the taluks of the district. The decline in the percentage of working force, to a large extent, would be attributable to the definition placed on the term 'worker' in the 1971 Census.

The following table gives the workers and work participation rates for the district and taluks.

Fair and festivals

Uthram Pathu in the Karakkad Sastha temple

This temple which is also known as Perunad Sastha temple is situated in the Perunad village and is 48 km. away from the Chengannur Railway Station.

The story about this temple is that soon after the consecration of the idol of Sastha at Sabarimala another one was installed in the Kakkadu temple to enable ladies of the Pandalam palace to worship Lord Ayyappa.

During the Makaravilakku celebrations at Sabarimala, it is the practice that Jewelleries are sent from Pandalam to adorn the idol of Sastha. When the celebrations are over at Sabarimala the ornaments are brought to the Kakkad temple to adorn the idol of Sastha installed here. special prayers are performed there. This is considered to be more or less equal to the pilgrimage to Sabarimala. The Uthram Pathu festival conducted here lasts for five days.

Maramon convention

Maramon and Kozhencherry situated opposite to each other on the banks of the Pampa river have been considered as premier centres of Christian culture and influence for centuries. During the month of February when the rainy season is over the river bed exposes a large expanse of white sand which enables people to gather here in large numbers.

The Maramon convention originated in the 19th century when a revival took place in the Syrian Church in Travancore. The Convention was started in the year 1894 on the occasion of the visit of two preachers from Tamilnadu and Ceylon. Since then it became a practice for people to gather here every year in this season and listen to preachings and take part in the Vedaparayanam or reading the Bible and other scriptures. The convention is an assembly of Christians who meet together once a year for listening to the Word of God. The Pandal made for this purpose easily accommodates fifty thousand or more people and such a gathering naturally adds to the festivity of the occasion. This continues for a week. Along with reading and preaching, singing of hymns and praying are also usual. All kinds of musical instruments are also used by the experienced hands of various children in this area. It is a grand sight to see fifty thousand or more people gather at a place and engage in prayer in union.

Though the object of the convention is purely spiritual it enables the Christians of Kerala to come to contact with each other, Shopkeepers and traders from far and near reach here and for a week the approach roads to the convention take the appearance of crowded thoroughfares in a big city.

Arat in the Punnanthottam Devi Temple

The temple is situated in the Mallappuzhassery Village which is only about 12 Kms. away from the Chengannur Railway Station. The festival in the temple is celebrated in the month of Meenam (March-April) every year. The festival lasts for eight days. Arat of the Devi is the most important function of the festival. At midnight on Pooram day the idol is taken in procession to the bathing ghat in the Pamba River in front of the Aranmula Temple where the Devi is bathed by immersing the idol in the water.

The legendary account is interesting. The idol in the temple is that of Durga incarnated as the child of Yesoda and exchanged for Lord Krishna born as the eighth child of Devaki, Vasudeva's wife. The Puranic story is that Kamsa who was warned by a heavenly voice that he would be slain by the eighth child of Devaki, killed her children immediately after their birth. On the birth of the eighth child, Vasudeva substituted that baby by bringing a daughter of Yesoda, wife of his friend Nandagopa to be given to Kamsa. Unaware of this fact, Kamsa attempted to kill that baby also as usual by smashing it on a rock. But the divine baby raised itself in splendour and disappeared after warning him of the consequences. It is this incarnation that is worshipped here.

Kathakali, Ottam thullal, religious conferences etc., are important attractions during the festival.

The fair connected with the festival consists business in bell metal utensils, earthenwares, the famous Aranmula metal mirror etc.

Feast of Mar Elias Patriarch in Manjinikkara Church

The church and monastery at Manjinikkara in Pathanamthitta taluk derives its importance from the presence of the holy tomb here. It is here that the body of the patriarch of Antioch and all the east was interned. In 1931 the patriarch came to India from the Church headquarters in Syria in response to an invitation of Lord Irvin, the then Viceroy. The patriarch travelled far and wide in Kerala and tried to appease the two warring factions in the Jacobite Syrian Christian community who were under his jurisdiction. During the course of his visit the patriarch came to Manjinikkara and on February 13, 1932 suddenly demised due to heart attack. Thus he became a martyr who sacrificed his life for the cause of peace in the church.

The body of the patriarch was buried here and from those days the people regarded it as a sacred place. Subsequently Manjinikkara became one of the most important pilgrim centres of the Christian community. Every year on the 12th and 13th of February the anniversary of the Holy Fathers' demise is celebrated with due ceremony and grandeur. A large number of Christians from all parts of the State and outside throng in the church every year and pay homage to their religious leader.

Omalloor Sree Rakthakantaswamy Temple

People believe that there was at a time in the past a temple at Kalleli near Omalloor and at the bank of Achencoil River which was originally established by a Parasurama. In course of time when the place became depopulated the temple routines suffered. It is said that the ruins of the temple can still be seen here. Once upon a time a woman of a noble family in Omalloor went for bath in the Achencoil River. She then saw a flower revolving strangely in the water. She took the flower and kept it in a pot near the tank. But when he returned to collect the pot, she, to her astonishment saw that the pot cannot be lifted. She went home and gave news of the strange happening. People gathered and on investigation it was found that the incident was due to the manifestation of the Kalleli deity. Therefore a temporary temple was erected here and poorjas were performed. Later a big temple was erected at Omalloor and the deity was installed there. This is the story about the origin of the Omalloor temple.

The place on the bank of the Achencoil River where the deity was originally installed is still considered to be sacred. It is to this place that Arat procession is taken on festival days.

In connection with this festival there used to take place a big fair. The most important among them is the cattle fair. Commodities like bell-metal utensils, fruits, and seeds, items of wooden furniture etc. from in and out of Kerala are marketed and a large number of people gather there for trade.

Sivarathri at Puthiyidathukavu Devi temple

This temple established in the year 1078 M.E. is situated in the Vallikkode village seventeen miles away from the Chengamunur Railway Station. Bhadra and Lord Siva are the deities here and is believed that both these deities appeared to the person who established the temple.

The temple is known for serpent worship. There are two images one of a Naga King and another of a Naga Yakshi here. It is believed that once when Sarpa pattu was being conducted in an open place the Naga King danced oraculously and indicated a spot from where the images were dug out. Even to this day neerum palum and serpent dances, the two ceremonies associated with serpent worship are conducted here on the Ekadesi day in Kumbum (February-March).

The programme for the seven days of celebrations includes religious ceremonies like Pooja and Seva etc. and cultural entertainments like Ottamthullal, Velakali, religious seminars, harikatha music concerts, Ashtapathi, etc. A fair also is conducted during the festival days which mainly deals in agricultural products.

Utsavam in the Thevannurkavu Siva temple.

This temple is situated five miles away from the Sasthamkotta railway station. Festivals are celebrated in this temple for one day each in three occasions i.e., Thiru Onam day in the month of Chingom, Ayilyam in the month of Kumbam and Aswathy in the month of Medam.

On the festival days Pooja are performed by Brahmins with the accompaniment of Panchavadyam. Among the attractions during the festival are cultural programmes like Ottanthullal, processions with elephants in the day time and Harikatha and Kathakali etc., in the night.

Ammankoda festival in the Sasthamcotta Ammankoil

The temple is at a place called Muppareth in Manakara Muri of Sasthamcotta Village. This is dedicated to Bhadrakali. The festival of this temple which is called Ammankoda is celebrated on the Bharani day in Meenam (March-April). Every year Mandala Vratam is observed from the first day of Vrichigam. On the 41st day Kuruthi is performed by slaughtering goats and fowls. Later when this was prohibited egg and pumpkin were used instead of fowls and goats. Tuesdays and Fridays are important and on these days a lot of people gather in the temple to worship and to give offerings.

Kettukazhcha in the Parambrahma temple, Oachira.

Oachira has been famous for long as one of the sacred places in Kerala. Historically too, this place is very famous for, it was on the plains of Oachira that the much famed battle in the history of Travancore, the battle of Kayamkulam between Maharaja Marthanda Varma and the Raja of Kayamkulam, was fought. In commemoration of this historic event Oachirakali is conducted on the 1st and 2nd of Mithunam here every year even today. This place was known as 'Oamchira' in the past; but in course of time, it came to be known as 'Oachira'.

The Parabrahma Temple at Oachira visited by pilgrims from all parts of South India and widely known as the 'Kasi' of Southern India, which is dedicated to Lord Siva, is very ancient and historic. This is the only temple which was opened to all classes of Hindus before the Travancore Temple Entry Proclamation. Usually sacred places are associated with particular communities. But Oachira is held sacred not only by Hindus but also others. It is sacred to Muslims as it is to Hindus. The famous Sathivar mosque is situated close to the Oachira temple. It is said that this hallowed place was once a Buddhist centre.

Years back, Oachira had been apart of Kayamkulam Raja's territory. The vast Padanilam (maidan) extending to 36 acres and lying around the temple was in former days used as the battle field by the then Rajas. The successors of the old Kalari Asans (fencing school instructors) are now the heirs to this temple. The Aikaravallil Kalari (fencing school at Aikaravallil) is said to have had connections with this temple from very early times. There are many legends about the origin of this famous temple.

Unlike in other temples of Kerala, there is no big edifice for this temple and the nivedyam offered does not consist of cooked stuffs.

The Poojas and other rites are not performed by Brahmins, but by the Kurups, a sub-section of Nairs. The Vazhipadu Sanghom (persons acting as waiters) of this temple are drawn from Veerasaiva community.

Apart from that of Lord Siva, the idols of Ganapathy and Naga Raja (serpent king) have also been installed here on the altharas (platforms raised around the banyan trees). The Nagayakshi is installed in a special corner, north-east to the temple, where poojas and other rites are performed by Brahmins. Another important place of worship here is the Ganapathy althara at the sternmost end. It is only after offering worship here that the devotees go to other sides to worship other deities. The most important offering made in this temple is ettukandam urulichha (rolling oneself over the ground around the temple). Another one is the distribution of kanji (rice-gruel) to the poor and hungry. On these occasions when kanji is distributed beggars will flock in thousands between the two temples. Yet another important item of offering received here is the various articles distributed to these beggars as alms. This will include articles like salt, betel leaves, rice, pappadam etc.

Nerchakalas (bulls received as offering) are received here from all parts of the state. The amount realised through the sale of these bulls constitutes one of the major items of income of this temple.

Quite often people possessed of evil spirits and suffering from hysteria etc., come and stay here for some time wholly devoting themselves to prayers and meditations. The number of such devotees who get cured is also not small.

Among the various factors which contribute to the ever increasing fame of this temple. Irupathettam Onam and Kettukazhcha are by no means unimportant. The kettukazhcha is celebrated from Thiruvonam asterism in Chingom (August-September) to Thiruvonam in Kanni (September-October). Among the effigies displayed at the Kettukazhcha (exhibition of effigies) the more important ones are of Siva's vehicle (the bull), horses, Bheeman, Panchali etc. This is a grand festival which attracts large number of people from all corners of the State. No information whatsoever is available regarding the origin of this utsavam. Another festival which was contributed in no small measure to the fame and glory of Oachira, is the Pandrandam Vilakku Utsavam. This utsavam which succeeds the Irupathettam Onam Utsavam is held for twelve days from 1st to 12th of Vrischigom (November-December). Pilgrims drawn from all parts of the state some of them with their families set up small hutments with palm leaves on the Padanilam and observe fast, remaining in these huts for days together in meditation. The rich and the poor alike forget their differences for the time being and spend the days in these huts in meditation. Among the devotees coming for workshop on these days, a good majority are ladies. During these days, Oachira will practically look like a small town. It is during this period that the Hindu religious convention, attended by great theologians and learned speakers, is held here. As in the Chottanikara temple the Karthika asterism, especially in the Karthika in Vrichigom, is celebrated in this temple too.

As indicated above the Oachirakali was one of the factors that brought fame and glory to Oachira. On the first and second of Mithunam (June-July) the young and the old, drawn from the two karas lying east and west of Oachira and forming themselves into the two groups reach the pandanilam and conduct the age-old fencing exercises under the leadership of elder Kalari Asan. It is to perpetuate the memory of the great battle fought between Maharaja Marthanda Varma and the Raja of Kayamkulam, that Oachirakali is conducted with much eclat. Thus the Irupethettam Utsavam comes to an end with the Oachirakali. A big cattle fair is also held in connection with the above festival.

The administration of this temple is supervised by elected council of members.

Utsavam in the Mararithottam Temple, Thodiyoor.

Mararithottam Temple is a very ancient Hindu temple situated in Thodiyoor Village just on the side of the Karunagappally-Sasthamcotta Road, about two miles east of Karunagappally. This is said to have been founded about 3,000 years ago. It is a stone-edifice built by the efforts of Brahmins alone, without any assistance from craftsmen like masons, carpenters etc. It is doubtful whether there is in existence in Kerala any other temple which is not built by traditional craftsmen. Another noteworthy feature is that, unlike in other temples, no idols have been consecrated in this temple. The place selected for consecration is now a vacant pit which is covered with a box. This is done on the basis of astrological prophesies that the idol will come into being by own accord and that no idol need be consecrated there.

According to tradition, it was in this place that Siva retired for self-mortification and penance (narrated in the 'Dhakshayaga'). It was here that Kamadeva who came here for inducing Siva to take to the ways of the world was reduced to ashes in the flame that emanated from the third sacred eye of Siva; and the place thus came to be called 'Mararithottam' (the garden of Kamadeva's enemy). In support of this legend, it is believed, that the bathing ghat on the southern side of the temple has its name 'Chamba Kadavu' (ghat of ashes), since the ashes (chambal) of Kama Deva have been immersed in the river Pallikkal flowing on the southern side of the temple.

Some precious medicinal herbs, not found in any other place of Kerala, grow on the walls of this temple which had been left uncared for many years, due to the fact that no religious ceremonies or rites are conducted here regularly. It was the high priest of the Sabarimala temple who was brought here once by the present trustee of the temple that informed the public about the existence of these medicinal herbs in the temple. The 'Lada' physicians coming from Tamilnad now are collecting these precious herbs which are named Mayiloosi, Inayadi etc.

The present condition of this once famous temple is pitiable.

The Utsavam in this temple is celebrated for eight days commencing from Thiruvathira asterism and ending on Atham asterism in Kumbhom

(February) which will be attended by nearly 12,000 people. Mats, bell-metal vessels, toys, coir products and food-stuffs are the important articles marketed in the fair held during the festival days.

Feast in the St. Sebastian's Church, Needakara

The Neendakara Church is one of the oldest churches in Kerala, believed to have been founded about 400 years ago. It is six miles away from Quilon railway station on the Quilon-Ernakulam Road. The church was founded by the Portuguese who found this locality convenient and suitable for their trade operations. The Kallada River facilitated them with opportunities to travel to the interior parts of Travancore and collect pepper and other spices and export them through the Neendakara port.

St. Sebastian's Feast, the most important festival of this church is celebrated in the month of January every year for 11 days. This is purely a religious festival celebrated in honour of St. Sebastian who is believed to be the protector from epidemics. The special attraction during this festival is the torch light procession conducted on the eve of the concluding day of the feast. The procession starts from the church in the evening with the accompaniment of instrumental music and innumerable petro max lights. The houses on either side of the road through which the procession passes are decorated and illuminated. A large number of people collect themselves in the road to see the procession.

House-hold utensils, mats, stationery goods, religious articles etc. are marketed in the fair held in connection with this festival.

Pathamudayam festival in the Mulankadakom Temple, Quilon.

Sri Mulankadakom Temple situated in Quilon town is one of the most prominent temples of Kerala. The site of the temple was once a thick jungle of bamboos and hence the name, mulankadakom.

The temple is dedicated to Bhadrakali and is owned and supervised by the Viswakarmas of Quilon taluk. The goddess Bhadrakali of this temple is considered to be all powerful by innumerable devotees. The Poojas of the temple are conducted by the members of a Viswakarma family of Quilon specially designated for the purpose. Still people of all sections of Hindus flock to the temple for worship.

The main festival of the temple commences on the first of Medam every year and spread over the next ten days terminating on the 10th Medam known as the Pathamudayam.

The main and regular item of the festival during these days is the chamaya vilakku, i.e. decorated lamps carried by girls in their teens appearing in special costumes. The number of lamp bearers increases day by day. Besides there will be other entertainments as dance, music concerts, Thiruvathirakali, Kathakali, Thullal etc. The most outstanding items of the festival are the edupukuthira and vandikuthira.

The carrying of these Kuthiras on the shoulders gives room for much rejoicing and jubilation.

The installed generation capacity of Kerala's power system increased from 28.5 MW in 1950-51 to 1011.5 MW in 1976-77. The major projects contributing to this generation capacity are Idukki stage I (390 MW) and Sabarigiri (300 MW). The State's power system has an energy potential of 4730 MKWH at present. Power tapped from hydel resources in the State has been found to be cheaper compared to many other States in India. The quantum of electrical energy generated in Kerala increased from 591 MKWH in 1960-61 to 3151 MKWH in 1976-77. This indicates substantial expansion in the generating capacity of Kerala's power system. The energy consumption within the State during 1976-77 was 2137 million units.—

Many of the major industries in the State had thus been formed as a result of the State initiative. These units cover a wide and diversified field of production. Generally these industrial concerns are classified into two: (i) Government-owned companies in which all the complete shares are held by the Government, and (ii) Government majority concerns in which more than 50 per cent of the shares are held by Government.

In this regard it is to be specially pointed out that there is no Government of India owned public sector industries in Quilon district.

Co-operative movement has received great impetus in the district due to the patronage given by both the State and Central Governments. Of late even the remote rural areas show interest in fostering co-operative banks and credit societies and they are more visible in the fields like coir cooperatives and fisheries co-operatives. Moreover the State Government has set up many State owned financial agencies like the Kerala State Industrial Development Corporation, Kerala State Small Industries Development and Employment Corporation and Kerala Financial Corporation to extend liberal aid and financial assistance to industrialists and self employment seeking personnels.

8. Turnover of commodities at various markets

Though the present Government has proclaimed its policy of starting regulated markets in the State at present there are no regulated markets in the State. However the net work of public distribution system is getting strengthened in the State year by year and this trend has got its impact in Quilon district also. The net work operating through the ration shops is primarily responsible for the distribution of essential items like rice, wheat, sugar and kerosene.

The founding of the Kerala State Civil Supplies Corporation was a further step in this direction. The corporation has now extended its activities to new consumer goods and spread its coverage to a larger number of the population. The corporation has now outlets in all the district headquarters. But for these developments the internal movement of goods and commodities is still in the hands of private traders and businessmen.

Below is given the list of makets and important commodities marketed in the district in the year 1970-71.

CHAPTER VII

COMMUNICATIONS

1. Railways

Kerala has achieved significant progress in the matter of transport and communications within the last two decades. Railways play a significant role in the transport system. The conversion of the Ernakulam-Trivandrum railway line from metergauge to broadgauge had its good effects in the transport system of Quilon district also. From the point of view of communications it is seen that though all the villages of the district except Mundro Island are served by pucca roads only 19 villages here have railway stations within two km. The following table gives the distribution of the villages by the distance from the nearest railway station.

Distance from the nearest Railway Station (in K.M.)	No. of Villages
Less than 2	19
2.0—4.9	6
5.0—9.9	19
10.0—14.9	14
15.0—19.9	13
20.0 and above	25
Unspecified	2

With the completion of the Ernakulam-Trivandrum metergauge the district has at present 50 kms. of broadgauge and 85 kms. of metergauge rails.

Roads are the most important means of transport in the district. The road transport system in Kerala is fairly well developed and Quilon district also shares the fruits of this advancement. Within the last two decades the length of roads maintained by both the Government and local bodies have increased substantially and this has led to the construction of more bridges and other transport facilities.

The type and length of roads existed in Quilon district in the year 1975-76 is given below:

Type	Length (in Kms.)
Concrete roads	10.00
Black topped roads	1,019.18
Metalled roads	867.75
Lower type	883.21
Total:	2,472.24

3. New Works

The inauguration of the Neendakara Bridge on 24-2-1972 which is situated about 5 kms. from Quilon town and on the 48th Km. of the National Highway 47 is the most important event in the history of development of road transports in Quilon district. This bridge which is 422.5 metres in length and 7.32 metres in width with 1.28 m. foot path on either side was built at an expense of Rs. 36 lakhs. The passenger and goods service to and from Quilon district got a great boost due to the opening of the bridge. The other two important bridges built in this district since 1962 are the Poovampara and Ithikkara Bridges. They have also contributed substantially to the development of road transport in this district.

4. State Transport

The Kerala State Road Transport Corporation is the most important agency which serves the passenger traffic in the district. The district has four transport bus stations—Quilon, Kottarakkara, Punalur and Pathanamthitta. Quilon district is divided into two transport districts viz., Quilon and Kottarakkara. The number of buses, bus routes etc. maintained by the Kerala State Road Transport Corporation is given below:

Number of buses, routes etc.

Particulars	Year
	1971-72	1972-73	1973-74	1974-75
1. Average No. of buses on road per day	176.1	175.4	183.0	202.2
2. No. of routes	453	476	346	526
3. Route Kms.	5,516	5,133	3,620	6,041
4. No. of bus schedules in operation.	192	191	204	207
1. Number of schedules			122
2. Number of routes			132
3. Route Kilometres			7,335
4. Gross distance operated			124.30 lakh kilometres.
5. Number of passengers			340.38 lakhs.

5. Private transport, taxies and autorickshaws are the other important means of passenger traffic. Among the southern districts of Kerala, Quilon is in the fore-front in private bus transport and they operate mainly in the interior parts of the district. Pathanamthitta is an important station in private bus service.

In 1970-71 there were 7,884 registered motor vehicles in the district and it will be interesting to note that just five years back it was only less than half of this number i.e. 3,894. As years passed on motor vehicles plying in the roads are increasing substantially. In the Table below is given the number of various motor vehicles on road in Quilon district for the years 1974-75, 1975-76 and 1976-77.

	1974-75	1975-76	1976-77
Goods vehicles	1,707	1,874	1,950
Stage carriages	350	362	363
Taxi cars	1,184	1,504	1,512
Motor cars	4,176	4,300	4,448
Motor cycles	1,648	1,839	2,190

Jeeps	432	413	448
Others	..	67	103
Total	9,929	10,510	11,175

6. Shipping and Air Traffic.

Kerala has only one major port and that is Cochin. Apart from Cochin the State coast line is served by three intermediate ports. They are Alleppey, Neendakara and Calicut. Neendakara port comes under Quilon district and this is one of the most important fishing centres in Kerala. While all the intermediate ports were responsible for earning foreign exchange in 1975-76 only Alleppey and Calicut Ports fatened in export trades in 1976-77. The importance of Alleppey and Neendakara Ports are decreasing year by year as far as their foreign trade is concerned. But on the other hand Neendakara gradually is getting importance as a fishing port and trade centre.

There are no air ports in Quilon district at present though the Government has scheme to start inter-district air traffic as early as possible.

7. Travel and tourism

Tourism is a fast growing industry in the State as a whole. Both the Central and State Governments are taking active interest in the development of tourism. As a result of this many parts of Kerala have earned fame as fine tourist resorts. Kerala Tourism Development Corporation, Toursist Department under the Government of Kerala are two important agencies work with this end in view.

However Quilon district has only marginal achievements as no new tourist resort has been founded here since the last Gazetteer was published. The development projects in Sabarimala and Thekkady have however helped to turn the attention of tourists to this district as many of its parts are rich in scenic beauty with its lakes and backwaters. Only concerted effort from the part of the State Government can help these areas to attract more and more tourists to these centres.

8. Posts and Telegraph Offices and Radio

Kerala is comparatively a better served State as far as Post and Telegraph facilities are concerned. The average area served by a post office in Kerala is 10.25 sq. kms. against the All India figure of 27.4 sq. kms. At the same time the population covered by a post office on an average is 5,210. Quilon district does not lag much behind these figures. The area served by each Post Office in the district is 11.73 kms. while the number of people served by it on an average is 6,124. According to a 1977 statistics there were 3 Head Offices, 121 Sub Offices and 270 Branch Offices in the district.

The statistics of Post and Telegraph Offices and Radio Licences in the district for the year 1970-71 is given below:

No. of post and telegraph offices etc. as on 1st April, 1977

Items
I	Number of Post Offices:
	1. Head Post Offices	3
	2. Department Sub Post Offices	126

VII.	Number of Radio Licences	25378

9. There is no radio or broad-casting stations in Quilon district though the number of radio owners are increasing substantially year by year. Television services are yet to find its ways into Kerala.

10. Road Accidents

Road accidents are comparatively on the increase in Kerala State. The poor conditions of roads, the unprecedented growth in the number of vehicles and the carelessness of the drivers and pedestrians are the reasons for this bad state of affair. Quilon district stands ahead of many other districts as regards accidents and fatal injuries. Below is given the details regarding road accidents in this district for the years 1975 and 1976-77.

Road accident in the district

Particulars	1975-76	1976-77
No. of accidents	452	477

CHAPTER IX

ECONOMIC TRENDS

1. Earners, Earning dependents, non-earning dependents

The total number of workers in the district as per the 1971 Census count is 690,283 of which 4534,959 are males and 155,324 are females. 28.61% of the total population is returned as workers. The work participation rates for males and females are 44.37% and 12.87% respectively. The percentage of workers to total population shows a decline from 32.51 in 1961 to 28.61 in 1971. The same trend is noticed in all the taluks of the district. The decline in the percentage of working force, to a large extent, would be attributed to the definition placed on the term 'worker' in the 1971 Census.

The following table gives the workers and work participation rates for the district and taluks.

Working population—1961-71

District/Taluk	Workers		Percentage of workers to total population

The total population has been divided into two broad categories viz., workers and non-workers. The workers are further divided and grouped into several industrial categories according to work they do in the farm, factories or otherwise.

The statistics given below shows the non-workers of the district.

District/Taluk	Persons	Male	Female
QUILON DISTRICT	1,722,538	670,761	1,051,777
Karunagappally Taluk	229,580	90,681	138,699

Kottarakara „	296,115	114,107	182,008
Quilon „	476,867	195,466	281,401

In the 1971 census the non-working population was not categorised according to their distribution into various groups. So in their respect it will be useful to mention this categorisation according to the 1961 census which is not mentioned in the original Quilon District Gazetteer. This statistics is now furnished below:

Distribution of total non-workers under various categories—1961 Census

Sl. No.	Activity	Total			Percentage

9	Total non-working population	1,309,878	527,469	782,409	100.00	100.00	100.00

2. The occupational classification of workers shows that only slightly more than 4% of the workers can be categorised as employers. Nearly three fourth of the workers are employees. The relevant figures are furnished in table given below:

Occupational classifications of non-agricultural workers—1971

Class	Males	Females	Total
	%	%	%
Employers	4.92	0.57	4.10
Employees	71.05	88.18	74.28
Single workers	20.93	8.03	18.50
Family workers	3.10	3.22	3.12

It is significant to note that single workers or 'own account workers' form nearly a fifth of the total workers in the State. These general figures which relate to the State can well be taken as representing this district also.

According to the 1971 Census 26.89% of the total workers are cultivators and 20.81% are agricultural labourers. 34.20% of the male workers are cultivators and 20.43% are agricultural labourers while among the female workers 22.10% are agricultural labourers and 1.70% are cultivators.

The following table gives the distribution of workers of the district into the nine industrial categories.

3 Sectoral Employment

The sectoral employment situation in Kerala has been under serious study and consideration of the Bureau of Economics and Statistics. This is in the light of the proclaimed policy of the Government to eradicate unemployment within a period of ten years. Thus the statistics collected by them attain new significance. The table below furnishes the sectoral employment situation in Quilon district from 1970 to 1975.

Sectoral employment in Quilon district

4. Prices

The retail and wholesale prices of commodities tended to increase substantially from the beginning of the Third Five Year Plan in 1962. The economy in the nation as a whole was described to be inflationary in nature and Kerala state and Quilon district could not in any way escape this onslaught due to varied economic reasons. This can be elucidated from the simple fact that the working class cost of living index which was 403 in 1961—taking 1939 as the basic year—rose to 879 in December 1971.

Below is given the average consumer price indices for working class for the two important centres in Quilon district and for the years 1961, 1966 and 1971. The base price here is that of August 1939.

Working class consumer price index

Name of centre State	Average 1961	Average 1966	Average 1971
Quilon	403	686	849
Punalur	473	644	836
State	478	673	857

Consumer price index for the two centres of Quilon and Punalur for March 1978 shows a marked increase in relation to the consumer price index of 1971. Taking 1970 as the base year these indices were 161 and 157 respectively for Quilon and Punalur centres.

However the consumer price index for Kerala registered a declining trend in 1976. Favourable monsoon resulting in an increased agricultural output was the main reason for the slow down in agricultural prices.

Below is given a statement showing the retail price of farm products in some important centres of the district for the month of May 1977.

It was already pointed out that the price of consumer's goods showed a tendency to rise steeply in 1960s and 1970s. The table given under which shows the average consumer price index numbers existed in Quilon district from 1960 to 1975 will illustrate this phenomenon.

The cost of building construction in Kerala was increasing year by year for the last few years which necessarily hampered the interest of low income groups in particular and the people in general. So it will be interesting to know the change in the average annual market prices of building materials in Quilon district. The statistics relating to this is furnished below.

5. Income, average daily wages etc.

The latest available data on State income pertain to 1975-76 in which year, the State income at current prices has been computed at Rs. 2,134 crores giving a per capita income of Rs. 909, which was lower than the all-India per capita income figure of Rs. 1,008. The rate of growth in 1975-76 as compared with the previous year would work out to 5 per cent. The primary sector consisting of agriculture and allied activities accounted for 50.6 per cent of the State income. The share of the industrial sector was 12 per cent, while the tertiary sector accounted for the remaining 37.4 per cent. A district-wise analysis of per capita income shows that Kottayam with Rs. 1,125 stood at the top while Malappuram with Rs. 695 was at the bottom.

Estimate of net domestic product of Quilon district for the years 1970-71 and 1975-76 at current and 1960-61 prices with percentage share is presented below:

Income of Quilon District

Both at current and constant prices, Quilon District occupied the third place and Ernakulam the second place in the matter of percentage share of the state income during 1970-71. At current prices Quilon District retained its positions in 1975-76. The per capita income of the district would provide a rough indicator of the comparative level of development of the district.

Wages and earnings of workers of various sectors in Kerala were on the increase for the last two decades. As was pointed out in section on prices as the economy showed a developmental trend the prices also moved upwards. To cope with the rise in prices wages and salaries were to be increased especially in the face of the strong labour movement in Kerala. The table given below shows the per capita average daily earnings of factory workers under the Payment of Wages Act—Kerala. This is a true indicator to prove the statement made above. As Quilon district is one of the districts which is in the fore front in relation to industrial growth this trend is very well visible in this district also.

7. Employment Exchange situation

The live register figures of the Employment Exchanges in the State give some idea of the magnitude of the problem of unemployment. As on 31-12-1977, there were 8.49 lakhs of work seekers compared to 7.53 lakhs a year ago, the rate of increase being 12.7 per cent. But the rate of increase was 17.5 per cent during the previous year. The sample survey conducted by the Director General of Employment and Training during 1973 showed that only 65.3 per cent of the registrants were actually unemployed. Even though this percentage would have undergone a change now rejoining on the basis of this percentage it is seen that more than 5.5 lakhs persons who are chronically unemployed have registered their names in the Employment Exchanges. It may be noted that all the unemployed persons may not register with the Employment Exchanges. Further there are a large number of under employed persons especially in the agricultural sector about whom no reliable information is available.

This general situation regarding the employment and under employment is broadly true with regards to Quilon district also. The number of unemployed persons in the district shows a marked increase every year. This is evident from the following statistics which shows the number of job seekers in Quilon district from 1965 to 1974.

8. Distribution of land to the landless.

A number of agrarian reforms have been under way in Kerala, the foremost of these being the Kerala Land Reforms Act (1963). These reforms aiming at the abolition of feudal landlordism as well as intermediary interests on land and the evolution of a strong basis for peasant proprietary rights are expected to ensure the maximum utilisation of both land and manpower resources. The results would tend to widen dispersion of ownership of land among the actual cultivators leading to accelerated growth of rural economy, increased employment opportunities and assured social justice to all.

The K. L. R. Act (1963) as amended subsequently from time to time enables all tenants to become owners of tenancy lands. It also provides for giving option to the hutment dwellers to purchase their homesteads with the lands appurtenant thereto. Above all it stipulates taking over and distributing lands in excess of ceiling areas. The Act came into full force from the beginning of 1970.

The progress of the implementation of the K. L. R. Act has been commendable. The provisions relating to the tenancy reforms and purchase of Kudikidappu rights have almost been implemented in full. What remains to be done about the Act mostly pertains to the ceiling provision and payment of compensation to the landlords. However, the beneficiaries of surplus lands, who belong to the lot of rural poor need considerable supporting programmes for the integrated development of their land including housing.

The right, title and interest of land owners and intermediaries in respect of tenanted lands stand vested in Government with effect from 1-1-1970. Government have taken upon themselves the liability to pay compensation to the landlords and intermediaries for the vesting of their rights in Government. The tenants get the full benefit of ownership even from the very day of the investing. The tenants are bound to accept the assignment and pay to Government the purchase price.

In the district the land ordered for surrender upto March 31, 1976 was 2319 hectares and the extent of land distributed upto March 31, 1976 was 367 hectares.

The Kerala Urban Development Finance Corporation constituted in the year 1969 continued to secure loans and advances to urban local bodies for their development schemes. All the Municipalities and the Guruvayur Township Committee are the shareholders of the Corporation. This has not only improved the revenue resources of the local bodies but also helped the overall development of the local areas.

CHAPTER-XVI

MEDICAL AND PUBLIC HEALTH SERVICES

During the past few years the State in general has made remarkable progress in public health facilities. The expectation of life at birth continued to be the highest while the death rate of 8 per thousand reached during 1976-77 is the lowest in Kerala when compared to the other parts of the country.

1. Vital Statistics of births and deaths.

Below is given the number of registered live births, deaths and still births in the year 1975-76 in the district.

	Urban	Rural	Total
Number of births registered	5,502	45,572	51,074
Number of deaths registered	970	304	1,274

According to a 1975 calculation, Quilon district returned a birth-rate of 22.07 per thousand population. The death rate for this period was 7.21 per thousand population while the still birth rate showed a rate of 17.39 per thousand population.

The bureau of economics and statistics have undertaken the sample registration survey with an objective of getting reliable information on vital rates and population during intercensal years on the guide lines issued by the Registrar General of India. The following is the findings of the survey undertaken in the rural areas of the district.

- | | | |
|---|----|-------|
| 1. Birth rate for thousand population | .. | 22.07 |
| 2. Death rate per thousand population | .. | 7.21 |
| 3. Still birth rate per thousand births | .. | 17.39 |
| 4. Infant mortality rate per thousand live births | .. | 36.52 |

2. Infant mortality.

The infant mortality rate in Quilon district in the year 1975 was 36.52 per thousand population.

3. Mortality due to various diseases.

Below is given a table showing the number of deaths by various causes in Quilon district in the years 1969 and 1976.

Causes	No. of death

The year 1975 marked high incidence of Cholera/Gastro enteritis in the State. This particular phenomenon was seen in Quilon district also and the district is one of the few from where such diseases were reported in high rates.

4. Medical facilities.

In the year 1974-75 Quilon district had 90 medical institutions of all kinds. Among them, 11 were hospitals, 20 P.H. centres, 4 T.B. centres and clinics. The number of beds in each of them are given below:

Kerala in fact was very famous in Ayurveda treatment from time immemorial. However from the beginning of this century, the Ayurveda ways of treatment got a set back due to the spreading of western ways of treatment and medicine. However the people and so the government now-a-days are turning more and more to Ayurveda. In the year 1975-76, there were four Ayurveda hospitals and 34 Ayurveda dispensaries in Quilon district. Moreover there were 56 grant-in-aid institutions in the same year functioning in this district. As on March 31, 1977 the number of Ayurvedic hospitals were 5 with a bed strength of 80 and 35 dispensaries. In 1977, though there was no homoeopathic hospital, there were 11 homoeopathic dispensaries in this district.

The number of beds in the Ayurveda hospital comes to 80 in the year 1976-77 while no bed was provided in any of the homoeopathic dispensaries. Below is given a table showing the number of patients treated in Allopathic hospitals and dispensaries for the years 1973 and 1974.

Patients treated in hospitals and dispensaries

Dispensaries	6,135	5,903	919,884	939,602

As was pointed out earlier there are no homoeopathic hospitals in the district. In the homoeopathic dispensaries 142, 178 and 170, 607 patients were treated as out-patients in the years 1974-75 and 1975-76 respectively.

5. Sanitation and Family Planning.

With regard to the public health programme, sanitation and supply of drinking water was one of the main concern of the Health Services Department. The water analysis division of the government Analysts' Laboratory was concerned mainly with the regular control of the quality of water supplied from the protected water supply schemes in the State. Samples of water were collected periodically from the various points in the sources, treatment systems and distribution systems of the urban and rural water supplies and were analysed in the laboratory. The rural water supply scheme also got considerable impetus in recent years. It has been estimated that 50 percent of the total rural area has been covered by protected water supply by 1976-77.

In the year 1975-76 there was two towns in the district. But only Quilon, has protected water supply. By 1976-77 the number rose to two. With regard to the rural water works scheme, in the year 1975-76 there were 41 schemes in operation and four of them were completed by 1976-77. Of late the Life Insurance Corporation of India is giving liberal credit for the water supply scheme in every part of the state. In the year 1975-76 there were 10 schemes in operation in this district with assistance from the L.I.C. In the year 1976-77 10.47 lakhs of rupees were spent for urban water supply scheme and 9.04 lakh were spent for rural schemes.

Kerala was in the fore-front of Family Planning Programme. As a result of the intensive effort made to limit the size of the family from the IV Five Year Plan period onwards most of the family welfare programme launched during 1976-77 have made substantial progress. Below is given a table showing the achievement under Family Planning Programme for the year 1975-76 and 1976-77, in Quilon district.

4. General and By election results

The General Election conducted in 1977 was the sixth one since the formation of the State. Electoral preferences in the March 1977 elections were limited in the sense that for all practical purposes, the contests were between candidates put up or supported by two 'fronts'—the Ruling front and the opposition front. The Ruling front represented an alliance of 5 political parties—the Indian National Congress, the Communist Party of India, the Muslim League, the Revolutionary Socialist Party, the Kerala Congress and the Praja Socialist Party. This alliance got the support of the newly formed National Democratic Party. The opposition front consisted of the Communist Party of India (Marxist), the Janatha, the Muslim League (Opposition) the Kerala Congress (Pillai Group).

There were 16 constituencies in this district. The result of the General Election in a nutshell is given below:
